Payment Alliance International Poised for Growth with New Office Facilities

Nation's Largest Privately-Held ATM Provider Continues Expansion in Louisville and Across the Country

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 17, 2017 -- (Business Wire) -- Payment Alliance International \(PAI\), the nation's largest, privately-held ATM provider, announced today it is moving its headquarters to a new location in Louisville, Kentucky. The company has leased approximately 30,000 square feet of newly-built office space in the Old Henry Crossings Business Park and will occupy the building as of June 1, 2017. PAI operating centers in three additional states relocated earlier this year to new, expanded facilities designed to accommodate the company's continued growth and success.

"Business should be fun and filled with passion," said John J. Leehy III, president and chief executive officer of PAI. "The new facilities offer our employees an incredible home equipped with state-of-the-art communication and business support technologies," added Leehy. "We are excited about the growth we've enjoyed and believe this move will further strengthen our team and increase our ability to care for customers."

The new headquarters, developed in conjunction with Schulte Design and Construction, was designed to meet PAI functional and productivity specifications while simultaneously boosting employee satisfaction and promoting PAI's distinctive culture. The facility features a highly-secured data center, a technologically-advanced corporate training area, a series of employee collaboration rooms and the latest in multi-point video conferencing. CBRE Group, Inc. facilitated the search and evaluation of properties, as well leasing of the new building space on behalf of PAI.
